

LATEST.

5 O'CLOCK.

BOUTELLE'S SECOND SPASM.

More Exciting and Vehement Debate in the House this Afternoon.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—A second wordy encounter between Catchings, of Mississippi, and Boutelle, of Maine, took place this afternoon.

Mr. Boutelle, who controlled the time of the majority, yielded three minutes to Mr. Boutelle, as the latter seemed strongly anxious to make his case before the adoption of the special order.

The Indians went to their quarters and aroused their comrades. Nearly every red soldier in the barracks抓了 the first thing lying at hand and saluted "out." They rushed in the rear door of Ketchmark's saloon, just outside the post, and waved clubs, pokers and broomsticks. Fortunately only a few persons were in the place, and they beat a hasty exit. Only one white soldier, so far as known, was hurt in the melee. The guard was called out and the Indians driven back to their quarters.

FIGHT BETWEEN SOLDIERS

Indian and White Soldiers at Ft. Omaha Engage in a Strife.

OMAHA, Feb. 2.—There was a lively fight at Fort Omaha between the white and Indian soldiers, and as a result half a dozen of the redskins are now in the hospital. Red blood has existed for some time between the white and red troopers and last evening a number of white soldiers attacked several of the Indians and gave them a good whipping.

The Indians went to their quarters and aroused their comrades. Nearly every red soldier in the barracks grabbed the first thing lying at hand and saluted "out." They rushed in the rear door of Ketchmark's saloon, just outside the post, and waved clubs, pokers and broomsticks. Fortunately only a few persons were in the place, and they beat a hasty exit. Only one white soldier, so far as known, was hurt in the melee. The guard was called out and the Indians driven back to their quarters.

MC NAMARA'S TRIALS.

Jury Still Out on the First One—The Second Began.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 2.—The jury in the case of A. V. McNamara, whose trial began at Independence yesterday on the charge of killing Father Little of this city, has not yet returned.

It is understood that the jury stands five for conviction and one for acquittal, and that the one juror who is hanging that last is a member of the A. P. A.

The second trial of McNamara began at Independence this morning. Dalton is charged with shooting Father Little when he was called. McNamara's attorney asked that the constable of Blue township be instructed with the duty of summoning a jury. He said that Marshal Stewart was a Catholic which should disbar him from performing that function. He also stated that a deputy marshal had gone to Independence before the case was called and had secured a jury on the quiet. This statement was denied by Prosecutor Brown and Justice Nichols instructed Marshal Stewart to summon the jury.

The panel of jurors fled into the court room about 12 o'clock. Upon being examined, it was ascertained that five were Catholics one was ill and one had heard the evidence yesterday, and his wife was a Catholic. They were all excused, and the marshal started on a quest for a second panel.

WITNESSES ASSAULTED.

Persons Attacked at Independence Were Members of A. P. A.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 2.—It has been ascertained that the two men assaulted last night at the station at Independence were witnesses for the plaintiff in the McNamara's case, and that they are members of the A. P. A.

Both were armed and when a crowd of three or four men threw bear bells and stones they responded, each bring one shot from a revolver at their assailants. Mr. Miller, one of the men assaulted was struck with a bear bell, but not seriously hurt. No arrests were made.

NO MORE LITTLE LIZARDS.

Will the People Wear in New York City Hereafter.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The sale of the little lizards, which have been brought to this city recently in large quantities from the south, has been stopped by the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

"It is the same sort of proceeding that characterizes the lynchings in the south," interposed Mr. Reed, sarcastically. "It is both swift and inexpensive."

"That remark," reported Mr. Catchings, "is unworthy of the gentlemen from Mississippi. He violates his own principles when he submits to the plan of his colleagues." (Democrat applause.)

Mr. Catchings then made a humorous speech, saying that the Democratic victory of yesterday made the very amiable Mr. Reed particularly obnoxious in his eyes. Mr. Boutelle and the latter's wife joined in cheering with these words:

"I have observed that the gentlemen who boasted the most prowess were the least harmful. (Laughter.) I never heard of any man who, though a member of my party, was more kindly disposed to his enemies than Mr. Boutelle and the latter's wife."

"If the society and the people who belong to it interfere with me, I will do something to say."

Mr. Boutelle's suggestion was ignored. The house voted to permit Mr. Catchings to proceed in order and the incident closed.

Mr. McCrary, chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, then read the majority resolution condemning the action of Minister Stevens in the Hawaiian matter, and Mr. Hill read the minority report, condemning the restoration of the queen.

Mr. McCrary then began the opening speech of the Hawaiian debate.

The subject seemed to have little interest for the house, and few members remained.

WILL GO RIGHT TO WORK.

Senate Will Allow No Delay in the Consideration of Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Senator Voorhees, chairman of the Senate finance committee, said today that the tariff bill would not be delayed for a day after it should reach the Senate, and that he and the other members would proceed to work upon it without any loss of time, whatever. The manner in which it would be considered would demand entirely upon the committee of finance. In the matter of time the committee will be controlled largely by the extent of the debates.

At 4:37 p. m. the tariff bill was reported to the Senate by the clerk of the house.

On request of Senator Voorhees the bill was read before the Senate and referred to the finance committee.

BLACK FLAG OF ANARCHY.

Mr. Sovereign Says It Hangs Over Treasury Department—$111 Fighting Bonds.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 2.—General Master Workman James R. Sovereign, of the Knights of Labor, declared last night that the black flag of anarchy is floating over the United States treasury department at Washington and when the November election should come, the workmen of this country would rise in their might and by means of the ballot change the condition of affairs.

The declaration was made in the course of an address by Mr. Sovereign delivered before a large audience of workmen. Mr. Sovereign attacked the bond issue and said that if it can not be defeated by an amendment, some other way will be found.

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of snuff that can not be cured by Hall's Cataract Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Proprietors, Toledo, Ohio.

We the undersigned have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions, and financially able to carry out any obligations made by their firm.

West & Truxx, wholesale druggists, Toledo, Ohio.

Walding, Kipner & Marvin, wholesale druggists, Toledo, Ohio.

Hall's Cataract Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and nervous surfaces of the system. Price, $50 per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Testimonials free.

"BELLS ON HER TOES."

And Millady Makes Music Wherever She Goes.

A New Fad Affected by Gotham's Society Girls—Sweet, Silvery Chimes on Ball Slippers—Mightiness on the Instep.

The latest fashion, which enables a woman to make a noise in the world, is the wearing of bells.

At a recent dance of the younger set, given at Sherry's, New York, one of the many debutantes attracted more than her share of attention, for, in the promenade, and more noticeably in the whirl of the dance, a faint musical tinkling of bells marked her movements and beat time to the rhythm of her step.

TINY CHIMES.

None of the many male admirers that flocked around her could discover the source of this mysterious chimes, till a twinkle of her white kid slipper explained the puzzle. A tiny gold bell was fastened to her instep, and its tongue kept up a continual prattle, drawing attention to its fair owner.

At one of the large Broadway jewelry stores a New York Journal reporter learned that bells for ball slippers have been worn abroad, especially in France, for years. Here, however, they are such a decidedly novel importation that they are very hard to find. This difficulty will, of course, exist only for a very short time, as the immediate demand will create a rapid supply.

There is room for variety of tastes and a variety of expenditures, in purchasing these miniature tintinnabula. It is possible to get them in tin and cheap metals as low as eight cents a dozen. These come in many colors, green, red, gold, blue and white, and can be adapted to any costume.

But, of course, it will never do for swagger people to wear anything so cheap, and nothing but sterling silver or eighteen-carat gold will fit its way to the instep of society.

At present the silver or gold bells of the more expensive grades will have to be made to order, but this will only add a new charm to them, and the additional cost will be trifling. Cheaper grades of bells can be secured at the large drygoods stores, at agencies for theatrical properties and at novelty stores in general.

EXTREMES.

The miniature church bell is preferable, though very pretty effects may be gained by strings of tiny sleigh bells. If only one bell is used, it is saved securely to the instep of the slipper. Clusters of bells should be strung on silk cord or small ribbons.

The above illustrations will suggest many ways of fastening the bells to the slippers so as to secure sufficient sound and enough artistic effect.

So now it can once more be said of the society princess that:

With rings on her fingers, And bells on her toes, She's a real music machine.

—HINTS FOR THE COOK.

In beating the whites of eggs for meringue or frosting, do not add the sugar until the egg is stiff.

When there is no time to ice a cake, remember that its appearance may be greatly improved by dredging the top with a little powdered sugar.

Always keep a jar of cracker dust on hand for bread, or else save up all pieces of bread, and once a month dry them in an open oven, then place them in a bag a pound until fine.

For rabbit pie the rabbit should be cooked as for stew, the gravy thickened, and the whole put into a deep dish and baked with a top crust and strips around the sides, as bestaste-ment allows.

Choline—Oh, she is perfectly lovely! She paid me such a compliment.

Frieda—What was it?

Cholie—She said I was so un-American. Frieda—How delightful!—Detroit Free Press.

—AUGUSTA.

Augusta—She is perfectly lovely! She paid me such a compliment.

Frieda—What was it?

Cholie—She said I was so un-American.

Frieda—How delightful!—Detroit Free Press.

—A LITTLE IN HIS DEVOTION.

“Details is passionately fond of art,” remarked the young man.

“Yes, replied the pretty girl, “and yet not fond enough to ‘try’ to make pictures.”—Washington Star.

—A SURE CARE.

Hanover—Doctor, I’m getting so nervous that I can’t sleep in the night.

What shall I do for it?

The Doctor—Why not pay your debts,

Hanover Gazette.

—RAMBLES.

Rambles (a very poor shot)—These birds seem to be very tame.

Lawson—Yes. You must have been out there shooting before.—Truth.

No Alternative.

Clara—Don’t you think he is too old to love?

Maud—That may be my dear, but he’s too wealthy not to.—Haha.

AN ELOQUENT PLEA.

And the Lawyer Who Made It Kept His Reward.

A good story about a lawyer is going the rounds. The occurrence took place so long ago that it is not within the recollection of any but the older disciples of Blackstone so it will pass muster even though it is a chessnut.

It seems that a tramp was indicted for stealing a watch. He was arraigned and plead not guilty. Having no counsel and being without funds, and a total stranger, the court assigned his defense to the attorney in question. The tramp was as guilty as any man ever was, but as the attorney was young in practice and desirous of getting off some of his wire edges against the district attorney he accepted the task and entered upon its discharge with all the zeal at his command. He had absolutely no defense. His client practically admitted the theft and sat through the trial in an attitude of dejection and despair.

Nothing daunted, the young attorney rose before the jury to sum up his case. Evidence had endowed him with a tongue capable of almost anything. He had his address at his tongue's end, and the manner in which he recited it off established him in the community in characters as efficacious as the rockers on old Gibraltar. He had the “12 men, tried and true” spell bound. They gazed at him in open-mouthed wonder. Afterward, they langidly wended their way home. The pleader had won his case.

Nothing daunted, the young attorney rose before the jury to sum up his case. Evidence had endowed him with a tongue capable of almost anything. He had his address at his tongue's end, and the manner in which he recited it off established him in the community in characters as efficacious as the rockers on old Gibraltar. He had the “12 men, tried and true” spell bound. They gazed at him in open-mouthed wonder. Afterward, they langidly wended their way home. The pleader had won his case.

Nothing daunted, the young attorney rose before the jury to sum up his case. Evidence had endowed him with a tongue capable of almost anything. He had his address at his tongue's end, and the manner in which he recited it off established him in the community in characters as efficacious as the rockers on old Gibraltar. He had the “12 men, tried and true” spell bound. They gazed at him in open-mouthed wonder. Afterward, they langidly wended their way home. The pleader had won his case.

Nothing daunted, the young attorney rose before the jury to sum up his case. Evidence had endowed him with a tongue capable of almost anything. He had his address at his tongue's end, and the manner in which he recited it off established him in the community in characters as efficacious as the rockers on old Gibraltar. He had the “12 men, tried and true” spell bound. They gazed at him in open-mouthed wonder. Afterward, they langidly wended their way home. The pleader had won his case.

Nothing daunted, the young attorney rose before the jury to sum up his case. Evidence had endowed him with a tongue capable of almost anything. He had his address at his tongue's end, and the manner in which he recited it off established him in the community in characters as efficacious as the rockers on old Gibraltar. He had the “12 men, tried and true” spell bound. They gazed at him in open-mouthed wonder. Afterward, they langidly wended their way home. The pleader had won his case.

Nothing daunted, the young attorney rose before the jury to sum up his case. Evidence had endowed him with a tongue capable of almost anything. He had his address at his tongue's end, and the manner in which he recited it off established him in the community in characters as efficacious as the rockers on old Gibraltar. He had the “12 men, tried and true” spell bound. They gazed at him in open-mouthed wonder. Afterward, they langidly wended their way home. The pleader had won his case.

Nothing daunted, the young attorney rose before the jury to sum up his case. Evidence had endowed him with a tongue capable of almost anything. He had his address at his tongue's end, and the manner in which he recited it off established him in the community in characters as efficacious as the rockers on old Gibraltar. He had the “12 men, tried and true” spell bound. They gazed at him in open-mouthed wonder. Afterward, they langidly wended their way home. The pleader had won his case.

Nothing daunted, the young attorney rose before the jury to sum up his case. Evidence had endowed him with a tongue capable of almost anything. He had his address at his tongue's end, and the manner in which he recited it off established him in the community in characters as efficacious as the rockers on old Gibraltar. He had the “12 men, tried and true” spell bound. They gazed at him in open-mouthed wonder. Afterward, they langidly wended their way home. The pleader had won his case.

Nothing daunted, the young attorney rose before the jury to sum up his case. Evidence had endowed him with a tongue capable of almost anything. He had his address at his tongue's end, and the manner in which he recited it off established him in the community in characters as efficacious as the rockers on old Gibraltar. He had the “12 men, tried and true” spell bound. They gazed at him in open-mouthed wonder. Afterward, they langidly wended their way home. The pleader had won his case.</